They are letting Villa have a pretty good start for a man hunt.

Maj. Lytton Brown, a Nashville officer in the engineering department, will take part in the hunt for Villa.

There may be nothing in a name, but Col. Slocum seems to be the wrong man for the Villa pursuit. Let's try Col. Gofast.

Gov. Rye has called an extra session of the Tennessee Legislature for March 21st to investigate the Memphis municipal muddle.

Administration leaders expect the Mexican situation to be a big help in passing the preparedness legislation to be considered at this session.

The names of 200 men, many of them prominent in various walks of life, who have enrolled for the first Southern Military Training Camp at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., have been given out.

Former Senator Henry Gassaway Davis of West Virginia, who ran on the Democratic ticket with Parker in 1904, died Saturday at Washington, aged 93 years. He leaves an immense fortune.

News item says that an American-born countess dropped her title so she could "sail as a plain, madame." Most of 'em don't have to drop anything in order to sail as "plain" madames.—Tennessean.

Gen. Pershing is to lead the Mexican invasion. An addition of a letter "T" to the general's name will describe what is happening to Americans in Mexico while they are preparing to get ready to think about when he will start.

Carranza is between the devil and the deep sea. If he consents to invasion he will lose his Mexican following and if he tries to prevent it, all Mexicans will look alike to Uncle Sam. No wonder he wants to "reciprocate," in the hope that this will satisfy his own following.

Let us hope that Carranza will make a fool of himself and make it unnecessary for us to take two bites at a cherry. When the American flag is again raised in Mexico, it ought not to be lowered until ample satisfaction and indemnity have been obtained for all the American lives and property lost in Mexico and Mexicans high and low are taught to "salute the flag."

Villa played a bold game. He evidently decided that he would rather be licked by a civilized nation than a victorious head-hunter. Besides his spectacular performance was expected to make him again a national hero. Some of Carranza's troops at Columbus are even suspected of joining in with him, or at any rate they got out of his way and did not give an alarm to Col. Slocum.

Judge W. T. Fowler's little colony of bright boys has been added to during the last few days and a family discussion was engaged in the other day concerning a name for the new son. Young W. T. a boy who has just begun to be not only bright but precocious, took part in the discussion with this suggestion: "Father you are W. T. Senior and I am W. T. Junior. Let's call the baby W. T. Freshman."

IMPORTANT MEASURES PASS

No Fights Among The Members Since Last Friday—Powers Wins.

Frankfort, Ky., March 13.—The session of the Legislature will end tomorrow.

So much time has been lost in almost endless wrangling and quarrelling resulting in charges and counter-charges, the passing of the lie and an attempted fist fight, that some sadly needed legislation will never get to the governor for his signature.

The liquor question, as in other sessions, has been the source of most of the trouble during this session.

Much time, last week, was taken in arguing the temperance question and the Hatcher substitute for the Greene anti-screen law is now ready for Governor Stanley's approval. It is believed here the governor will sign the measure.

There is no question that Gov. Stanley is sincere in his intention to enforce the measure, once it becomes a law. It carries an emergency clause, making it effective as soon as he signs his name to the bill. He will undoubtedly lose no time in performing his duty to prove not only its effectiveness, but also his own sincerity.

Another bill which Governor Stanley is expected to sign is the Knight workmen's compensation bill, which marked the winning of a long and hard fight in behalf of the laboring men of the state. Representatives of labor were in the house galleries when the revitalized measure was passed without a dissenting vote.

The bill of Senator Huffaker, providing for the employment of convicts on public highways, was passed by the house Saturday and Governor Stanley will unquestionably sign this, one of the measures which he pledged the people would be enacted into law.

Despite the squabbles and quarrels which marked last week, by working overtime the legislators transacted some business. They killed the woman's suffrage bill, tabled the so-called Finn bill and gave a big boost to the Barret boxing commission bill to legalize prize fights.

As is usual, consideration of bills was rapid and action was taken on many measures. The senate on one day appropriated $37,000, which is more than has been appropriated during the previous days of all the session. All of the money went to charitable and educational institutions.

One of the bitterest fights of the session was that of last Friday night over the ripper bill, which it is charged, was intended to make such changes in the Tenth and Eleventh districts that Caleb Powers would be unable to succeed himself.

During the night filibuster in the house against the bill, such disgraceful scenes were witnessed, that Speaker Duffy Saturday morning named eight assistant sergeant-at-arms and instructed them to use "whatever force is necessary" in making members maintain order.

It was finally tabled, which ends its career during this session.

QUICK WORK BY OFFICERS

Post Office at Bluff Springs Robbed and In six Hours Arrests are Made.

SEBREE BLOOD HOUNDS USED

Sam Fuller, One of The Men Arrested, is Seriously Wounded.

Sunday night about 9 o'clock, the post office at Bluff Spring was broken into. It was kept in the store of J. B. Atkinson, and Mr. Atkinson, the postmaster, acted with promptness. He at once reported the theft to the sheriff's office and without a moment's delay the owner of the Sebree bloodhounds was called up and by getting an order for the fast night train to stop at Sebree, the bloodhounds got here by 12 o'clock, three hours after the house was broken into.

Deputy Sheriffs Herbert Johnson and Low Johnson rushed them to the scene at once in an auto and the dogs took the fresh trail and went directly to the stable of Clinton Pitzer. Sam Fuller was found in the barn and attempted to make his escape by squeezing through a small crack. The sheriffs had summoned Mr. Atkinson and others as a posse to assist in the arrests and some one in the sheriff's party stopped Fuller with a pistol shot that struck him on the right side of his back and come out through his left lung. He was taken in charge. A little later Clinton Pitzer and Bob Johns were met in the road and arrested. On the way down they had been passed and stopped and a search made which disclosed pistols and some money in their pockets. They were not arrested at the time as the officers were intent on getting to the fresh trail. After the dogs led to Pitzer's stable, they decided to look after him also and luckily found him and Johns together without much effort. All three of the men were brought to town and lodged in jail and Fuller's wound attended to. It is a serious but not necessarily a fatal wound.

The officers in returning found that another store in the vicinity, that of Mrs. West, had also been broken into. The dogs were put on this trail but lost it at the road, where the thieves had evidently mounted horses or gotten into a vehicle.

The job from start to finish was handled with the utmost dispatch and efficiency. The robbery was 16 miles from town, the dogs were 56 miles from Hopkinsville and yet they were brought here in three hours and in three hours more the work had been finished and the men arrested were safe in jail.

The men all lived in the neighborhood of Bluff Springs and Sam Fuller has been in trouble before.

PROMINENT WOMAN DEAD

One Of City's Oldest And Best Known Ladies Passes Away.

Mrs. Mildred Elizabeth Mills, widow of the late John N. Mills, died Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, at her home at 216 East 18th street, after a long illness, of a complication of troubles. Mrs. Mills was a daughter of Richard L. Moseley and was born in Virginia in 1830. She had long been a resident of this city. Her husband was a pioneer tobaccoist and a brother of the distinguished statesman, Roger Q. Mills. They are survived by two children, Dr. Roger Quarles Mills, of New York, and Mrs. Johnnie Mills Campbell, with whom she made her home.

Mrs. Mills was a member of the Baptist church and her funeral services were held by Rev. C. M. Thompson yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the residence. Interment in Riverside Cemetery.

HUNG JURY IN RENSHAW CASE

No Verdict Had Been Rendered At Four O'clock Yesterday Afternoon.

The jury in the case of Bubber Chafin and Ernest Wilson, on second trial for the murder of John M. Renshaw, took the case Saturday afternoon. They reported yesterday morning that they were unable to agree and Judge Hanbery sent them back. They were still out yesterday afternoon.

SPECIAL REGISTRATION.

Special registration was held yesterday in the seven city precincts for the bond election Saturday. Only a few names were added to the very full registration of last fall.

INSPECTION SATURDAY N.G.T.

Col. Jouett Henry arrived in the city Saturday and Co. D was inspected that night by Capt. Gibson, U. S. A., assisted by Col. Henry.

Mrs. Jesup Very Low.

Mrs. Mary Jesup is very low at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. R. C. Roach, on Fifth street. She is suffering from a stroke of paralysis with which she was seized on Thursday night. Her condition since then has been such as to occasion grave concern to her family. Mrs. Jesup is nearly eighty years old, and it is feared she may not survive her present illness. Members of the family at other points have been notified to be prepared for the worst.—Clarks-ville Leaf-Chronicle.

CARRANZA'S MANIFESTO

Will Not Let Uncle Sam Invade Mexico Unless He is Allowed Same Privilege.

FUNSTON KEEPS CLOSE MOUTH

Not Known When Expedition Will Begin Pursuit of Villa.

Washington, D. C. March, 13.—Carranza on Sunday night followed up his request for a reciprocal invasion privilege, by issuing a manifesto that under no circumstances would he grant the right to the United States to invade Mexico without a reciprocal privilege to his forces.

Secrecy regarding Gen. Funston's plans for moving against Villa and his bandits has been so rigidly enforced at the war department that even high officials of the government were in doubt tonight as to whether American troops actually had crossed the Mexican border.

Secretary Baker announced that the Twenty-third infantry, now at Galveston, Tex., had been ordered to El Paso because of fear of Mexican attacks felt in many towns along the border.

When President Wilson returns to Washington this morning, after a week-end outing on the yacht Mayflower, he will take up with Secretary Lansing the note from Gen. Carranza, requesting permission for the de facto troops to pursue bandits into American territory, should the need arise. Administration officials anticipate a prompt answer to Gen. Carranza, and believe it will be satisfactory to the defacto government.

The President will find both the White House and war department in direct telegraphic communication with virtually every strategic point along the border involved in the present situation. To save delay in transmitting messages, this arrangement has been made with the telegraph companies, and should the expeditionary forces string a field wire behind them after crossing the border, it would be possible for reports to go directly from the front to the department.

The general instructions to Gen. Funston, it is understood, lay stress upon the necessity of impressing Mexicans on both sides of the border with the fact that the United States is interested only in defending its own borders, and that troop movements now in progress or contemplated have no other object. Officers of the expeditionary force will be directed to make this clear to civilians as well as officials of the de facto government with whom they come in contact. Instructions are explicit, it is said, to capture or disperse bandits and return to the United States territory immediately.

YOUNG PEOPLE ORGANIZE.

The fast growing Second Baptist Church organized a B. Y. P. U. Sunday night with 30 members. Mr. Joe East was elected President and Fenton S. Cunningham Vice-President. All the young people and some of the older members are taking great interest in the B. Y. P. U. and there is no doubt that it will be a great success. Everybody is cordially invited to attend whether a member of that church or not. If you are not a member of that church you may join the B. Y. P. U. as a social member.

The Second Baptist church is working hard to have its church completed. And the way things are moving before the year is gone there will be something done towards building the big addition.

COLLEGE GLEE CLUB.

Miss Blanche Thomas' Glee Club at Bethel College will give a concert at the College this evening to which the public is invited. The young ladies render some very fine music and the entertainment will be a rare treat.

ARTILLERY IN GREAT BATTLE

French Claim to Be Holding German Forces in Check.

BOMBARDMENT STILL STRONG

Germans Tell of Repulsing Attacks on Positions Which They Had Taken.

Except for artillery action, the fighting in the Verdun region virtually has ceased for the moment. To the north and east of the fortress there has been no infantry engagement since Saturday afternoon, when the Germans succeeded in entering a small trench to the north of Eix.

On both sides of the Meuse, from the northwest of Verdun, along the front to the southeast of the fortress, the artillery of both sides has continued the tremendous shelling that has been in progress for days.

The Germans claim to have captured in the fighting around Verdun, thus far 26,472 unwounded French officers and men and 189 guns and 232 machine guns.

To the south of the Somme river, in the Argonne forest, and in the Ban De Sapt sector of the Vosges the French guns have heavily bombarded German entrenchments.

The Russians have captured trenches from the Germans in the Dniester region of east Galicia and have made further progress against the Turks in Persia by taking the town of Kirind. The Russians admit the sinking of a Russian torpedo boat destroyer by a submarine of the central powers in the Black sea off the Bulgarian port of Varna. Part of the crew of the destroyer was rescued.

Despite the unfavorable weather conditions in the mountains, the Italians are continuing their operations against the Austro-Hungarians. They also are intensely bombarding the Isonzo front. The town of Gorizia has had to sustain another hail of Italian shells.

The British fleet auxiliary Fauvette, a vessel of 5,644 tons, has been lost, together with fourteen members of her crew, by striking a mine off the east coast of England.

A Paris dispatch says that testimony given the American consul at Havre by the seven Americans on board and members of the crew of the Norwegian bark Silius, which was sunk off the coast of France, is that the bark was torpedoed by a submarine and without warning.

German Claims.

Berlin, March 13.—via London.—Assaults made by the French in massed formation against the newly-won German positions on the left bank of the Meuse, northwest of Verdun, were repulsed with heavy losses to the attackers, says the official statement issued to-day. Since the present operations were commenced in the Meuse region the statement adds, 26,472 unwounded French officers and men have been taken prisoners and 189 guns and 232 machine guns have been captured.

ONE BOY'S WORK.

A French report says: Sunday morning Sub-Lieutenant Guyemer brought down a German aeroplane, which fell in flames inside our lines near Thiescourt. This is the eighth aeroplane brought down by this pilot, six having fallen within our lines and two inside the German lines.

"Another aviator similarly brought down an enemy aeroplane inside our lines near Dombasie, in the Argonne. The passengers of the two destroyed machines were killed. The same day our battle aeroplanes fought eighteen aerial engagements in the region of Etain in the course of which the adversaries were put to flight."

Guyemer is only 20 years old and so small that he was three times turned down before he was at last accepted as a recruit and assigned to the aviation department.

VARIES WITH THE SEASONS

Foliage Colored by Nature to Correspond With the Changes That the Months Bring.The foliage of summer is generally mature, green, sober. There is a certain warmth and gaiety about the leaf progress of June and early July, and a vast variety in shades, as well, so that any body of trees and shrubs of varying kinds will display anything from the youngest light yellow leaves
of the Norway maples to the deep, even green of the horse-chestnuts. Toward the first of August, the leaves are quite or nearly fullgrown, and they have settled down to their real work of elaborating food for the trees that bear them.My water-color friend, Little, has discovered in this color maturity another confirmation of his theory that there is a sort of color compensation,
a chromatic balance, of the seasons.
In spring, the air and the ground are cool, though slowly absorbing heat,
and the leaves and flowers are warm
in hue—there are the really hot colors of the tulips, the yellows of some tree blossoms, and so on. As the season warms, the foliage and flower hues become in general cooler, until
in summer we have the deep green of mature leaves, the deep blue of the white-dotted sky, and the blues and whites of the garden. When cooler nights begin to come, the summer foliage is likely to assume hints of brown, the corn takes on the colors of maturity, and we have the decidedly warm-hued chrysanthemums, purple asters, and the like, to compensate. The sharp weather of winter demands all possible heat from nature's color scheme, and we have it in the browned leaf, following the brilliant and not cool hues of autumn,
in the cornshock and the bare tree stem, and even in the shadows on the snow.—Countryside Magazine.

TO MAKE AIRSHIP INVISIBLE

Inventors at Work on Project That Would Seem to Present Some Difficulties.The newest idea in the construction of aeroplanes, especially for use in war time, is to render them as nearly transparent as possible. To this end studies are now being made of celluloids and other materials which might possibly be utilized as wings,
and which would be sufficiently transparent to make them less conspicuous in the sky than are materials now in use.While the primary object in making aeroplanes transparent is to prevent them from being seen by the enemy,
it would have an added advantage in permitting the aviator to see in all directions, and thus render his air scout work more efficient. Several machines have been put into operation within the last three months which are equipped with transparent wings
of inflammable celluloid and are almost invisible when a few hundred feet in the air.A new muffling box has also been devised which serves to still further deadens the sound and thus enables the operator to get close to the enemy
without his presence being detected.
The substitution of the specially prepared celluloid for the canvas is expected to mark a distinct advance in aeroplane manufacture, although it is as yet too recent a development to have established its reliability.

Pronouns and Genders.

Our ability to personify a sea ship
by using the pronoun "she" and to keep the Zeppelin in place as "it" brings out one strong point of our language.It is impossible to be so subtle in French, which has no neuter or in German, with its arbitrary scattering of genders. Mark Twain gave us a typical instance of good German:
"Wilhelm, where is the turnip?" "She has gone to the kitchen." "Where is the accomplished and beautiful English maiden?" "It has gone to the opera."Mark went on to observe that in Germany a tree is male, its buds female, its leaves neuter; horses are sexless; dogs male, cats female—including tomcats. By some oversight of the inventor of the language a woman is a female; but a wife (weib)
is not.—London Chronicle.

Spotted.

Mayor Riddle of Atlantic City said
at a clambake on the beach:"You can tell, if you're clever, a vacationist's home position. All vacationists, of course, are not bankers or heiresses or manufacturers of war munitions, though most of them look it.
"Yes, you can spot them out if you keep your eyes open. Thus, on a fishing excursion to the bank, it was easy to spot a blonde in a Paquin gown for a telephone girl because, as she was drawing in a flounder, somebody called to her, "Hello!" and she frowned and answered impatiently:
"Lhe's busy!"

Washing Machine of New Order.

In one of the newest washing machines a fan or propeller within the tub sends a constant stream of hot suds through the soiled clothing, contained in a movable cylinder which is slowly revolved by the action of the stream of hot water upon it. The machine has neither gears nor belts.
A small electric motor fastened beneath the tub does the work and also operates an electric wringer attached to the top of the tub. No manual labor, other than placing the soiled clothes in the tub, and placing hot water and soap therein, is necessary.

Terrible Picture of Suffering

Clinton, Ky.—Mrs. M. C. McEroy
in a letter from Clinton, writes:
"For six years, I was a sufferer from female troubles. I could not eat and could not stand on my feet, without suffering great pain. Three of the best doctors in the state said I was in a critical condition, and going down hill. I lost hope. After using Cardui a week, I began to improve.
Now I feel better than six years ago."
Fifty years of success, in actual practice, is positive proof that Cardui can always be relied on, for relieving female weakness and disease.

the barriers of kind. We were talking so last night—about the common uses of life—when a certain young fellow who had been listening with a sad attention, leaned his head on his hand—with a kind of sad weariness and said directly to me, across the heads of the others and the cur-

and his effort—"How we differ!" I cannot tell you how much there was
of barked endeavor and of relinquish-

difference is so much to his disadvantage.—Baltimore American.

POPE A VOLUNTARY PRISONER

Custom Alone Prohibits the Head of the Church From Leaving the Vatican Grounds.The custom of the pope never leaving the Vatican originated in 1870, when the temporal dominion of the pope came to an end and the former States of the Church were incorporated in the new kingdom of Italy.
There is no law against his leaving his palace or its grounds, nor would
he be arrested for such procedure.
The pope's remaining in the Vatican is voluntary. One of the first acts of the kingdom of Italy after its union of the whole of the peninsula was to pass the law of guaranties, in force May 13, 1871, declaring the pope's residence extraterritorial and immune from Italian law. All action of the authorities of the kingdom of Italy stops at the gate of the Vatican. At the time of Victor Emmanuel's occupation of Rome Pius IX declared himself opposed to the kingdom's temporal sovereignty and originated the custom of the pope's remaining in that part of the city
where he is still absolute ruler.
When the pope goes to St. Peter's it is regarded as a part of the Vatican for the time. It is interesting to note in this connection that the Vatican was not originally intended as a place of residence. Comparatively a small part of it is now residential; the remainder serves the purposes of science, art and the administration of the Catholic church.
Of the 1,000 rooms in the great palace, 200 serve as residences for the pope, secretary of state and the other high officials of the church.

SUBSTITUTE FOR MEAT

MANY PREPARATIONS THAT MAY BE UTILIZED.

Macaroni Served With Kidney Beans Will Be Found Entirely Acceptable—Vegetable Roast Also Well Worth a Trial.

Are you looking for a dish that can be substituted for the expensive meat, and will yet be good eating and strengthening? Try

Macaroni With Kidney Beans.—One cupful macaroni, one pint kidney beans, one-half pint tomato sauce, one teaspoonful salt, one quart water, two tablespoonfuls flour, two tablespoonfuls butter, three-quarters cupful hot milk, one-quarter cupful tomato (strained).

Break the macaroni in small pieces and cook in boiling salted water until soft. Drain, pour a cupful of cold water through it. In preparing the tomato sauce, heat the milk to the scalding point and stir into it the creamed butter and flour. Cook five minutes, add the heated strained tomatoes, drained macaroni and the cooked beans, with more salt if needed. Heat thoroughly, pour into a vegetable dish and serve. Sufficient for four or five persons.

Vegetable Roast.—One quart beans or peas, one quart nut meats, four slices zwieback, one cupful sweet cream.

Put the well-cooked beans or peas through a colander to remove the skins, then mix with the finely-chopped nut meats. Season to taste. Put one-half the mixture in a buttered baking dish, spread over it a dressing made as follows: Pour boiling water on four slices of zwieback, cover, let stand for a few minutes, then break them up with a fork and pour over one-half cupful of sweet cream. Season with salt and sage. Cover the dressing with the remainder of the nut mixture, pour over all the remaining half cupful of cream and bake for one and one-half hours. Serve in slices with cranberry sauce.

Potato Salad With Sardines.—One pint potatoes, one onion, half green pepper (sweet), three sprigs parsley, three olives or pickles, three teaspoonfuls olive oil, one and a half tablespoonfuls vinegar, one can sardines, one tablespoonful beets or olives, salt and red pepper to taste.

Boil potatoes in their jackets, then peel, and when cold cut into cubes. Mix together the potatoes, onion, green pepper, parsley, olives, salt and a dash of red pepper. Add the oil and vinegar. Mix lightly and put in a salad bowl. When ready to serve, open the sardines, drain and wipe free from oil and arrange on top of the salad in a circle. Put the chopped beets or olives in the center and serve. Brown or whole wheat bread goes well with this. This will serve three people. A salad of this description, with its fish and its olive oil, meets the requirements of an all around hearty and nourishing dish.

Have you tried not polishing your cooking stove, but keeping it well washed? It saves your own aprons, tea towels, etc., and the children's clothes, if they come around the stove in the kitchen.—Emma Paddock Telford.

Grapefruit Salad.

The grapefruit is a cheap and delicious fruit. It makes an excellent hors d'oeuvre when cut in half, the hard center and seeds removed, and a little maraschino or rum poured over it. It is equally successful as a salad. Select a large heavy fruit and separate the flesh from the bitter skin in good good-sized pieces. Line the salad bowl with tender lettuce leaves, chicory or romaine, add the grapefruit, and sprinkle over it a tablespoonful of finely chopped fines herbs, then pour over this a good French dressing, and garnish with white, hard-boiled egg rings with an olive curled in the center of each.

Supper Dish.

A novel and tasty way of serving frankfurts and tomatoes for either a supper or luncheon dish is as follows: Put about a tablespoonful of butter in a frying pan, and when melted slice in a large onion and fry brown. Add one can of tomatoes, one-half teaspoonful of salt, a small amount of red pepper and one whole clove. Take one pound of frankfurts and remove the skin and slice lengthwise into halves, and remove and cook ten minutes. Serve with baked potatoes.

Cream Mince.

Chop, not too fine, four large cold potatoes, about three-quarters that quantity of cold beets, and one-third onion. Mix all together and dust with flour, salt and pepper. Pick up one cupful of salt fish. Put water over the fish to soften. Make a cream with two tablespoonfuls of butter and one of flour and one-half cupful of hot water and same of milk. Drain water off the fish and add the cream with the vegetables. Heat and serve.

Fairy Ginger Cake.

One cupful of molasses, one-half cupful of sugar, one heaping tablespoonful lard, one egg, one cupful sour milk with one teaspoonful soda stirred in until it begins to foam over top of cup, one teaspoonful ginger. About a pint of sifted flour, making a rather thin light dough. It will be light like a sponge if not mixed too stiff. Can omit ginger and use spices and raisins if desired.

Unusual Offer To Our Readers

For a limited time, and subject to withdrawal after 30 days, the well-known publishing house of the J. B. Lippincott Company, Philadelphia, founded in 1792, offers to the readers of this paper a 12 months' subscription to "Lippincott's Magazine" and a year's subscription to the Kentuckian, both for $3.00. This is the price of a twelve months' subscription to "Lippincott's" alone. Additional to obtaining every issue of this paper for a year, our readers will receive in "Lippincott's" 12 great complete novels by popular authors, 105 short stories, crisp, entertaining, or glib, 45 timely articles from the pens of masters, and each month some excellent poems with the right sentiment, and "Walnuts and Wine," the most popular humor section in America. To obtain this extraordinary offer prompt action is necessary. Remit to J. B. Lippincott Company, Washington Square, Philadelphia, Pa.

Animals Natural Swimmers.

One of the swiftest swimming animals is the squirrel. A sportsman on one occasion, having at hand a squirrel born in captivity, which had never seen water, wanted to see if it could swim, and took it with him in a rowboat to the center of a lake. The squirrel turned toward the bank, head and paws above the water, back and tail underneath it, and began to swim so rapidly that it was with the greatest difficulty that the man recovered it when it reached the shallow water near the land. It is said that even many nonaquatic birds will swim like ducks if an attempt is made to drown them.

Hour-Glass Auctioneer.

An ancient custom has just been observed at Chard, Somerset, England, when a meeting of the burgesses conducted the annual letting of the market tolls. WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Democratic Members Protest to Gov. Stanley Against Amendment to Constitution

Washington, Mar. 13.—The Kentucky democratic members of congress held a meeting in the committee room of Senator Ollie M. James and by agreement Senator James and Representative J. Campbell Cantrill sent the following telegram to Governor A. O. Stanley:

"At a meeting in Senator James' office at which all of the Kentucky democratic members of the house but one were present, the opinion was expressed that it was not within the province of members of congress to offer advice to the legislature, but each member present expressed himself as strongly opposed to the woman suffrage amendment and hoped that it would be defeated, in accordance with the action of the last democratic state convention. The one absent member of the house delegation could not be located in time for the conference."

The Kentucky democratic congressmen view with alarm the possible enfranchisement of 70,000 colored women in Kentucky.

SUDDEN SUMMONS

Heart Trouble Causes Death of Mrs. Virginia Grey Sunday.

Mrs. Virginia Winfree Grey died rather suddenly Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home of her brother, Judge W. P. Winfree. She had been a sufferer from asthma for some time, but the immediate cause of death was heart trouble, complicated with kidney disease. Mrs. Grey was apparently in her usual health Sunday morning, but when attacked with the trouble that caused death she survived only a few hours. She had been a resident of Byron, California, since 1871, but she and her only surviving sister, Mrs. Irene McMullen, had been here on a visit since last July and they had planned to leave for their home on the Pacific coast in a week or ten days. The deceased was born in Christian county July 23, 1849, and was a daughter of the late S. T. and Ellen Winfree. She was married to N. E. Grey, a son of N. E. Grey, Sr., a prominent lawyer here many years ago, in December, 1868, and was the fifth of a family of fourteen children. After her marriage she and her husband resided at Columbus, Ky., for a year or more before moving to California.

Mrs. Grey had been a member of the Episcopal church for many years and was a pious christian lady, loved by every one who knew her. Her funeral services were at Grace Episcopal church yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. G. C. Abbitt and the interment took place in Riverside Cemetery. Ten nephews of the deceased acted as pall bearers.

MADAME X TO-DAY.

Craving the love her husband is too busy to supply, Jacqueline clandestinely meets Eugene, a former lover, and Floriot sees everything. Disregarding her pleas, Floriot sends her away. A very short time later Eugene meets with an accident and poor Jacqueline is left alone. She returns to Floriot's house to see little Raymond, her child, and again Floriot drives her away. Unable to secure work, and desperate for the want of food, she accompanies Manuel Garcia, a disreputable Cuban, to Havana. Sweethearts are plentiful, and Garcia soon tires of Jacqueline.

In the depths of degradation, she is about to end it all when she meets Laroque, a runner for Perissard and Mervale, shyster lawyers in Bordeaux. With him she returns to France. To keep him from going to Paris to search for her husband she kills him.

Raymond Floriot, her son, now an advocate, is appointed to defend Jacqueline, who, because of her refusal to divulge her identity, is known to the police as Madame X.

Before his father as Judge, Raymond defends Madame X, his mother.

Thanks to the eloquent pleading of her son, Jacqueline is acquitted. Then in a tragic scene, old Floriot holds out his arms, a light of forgiveness in his eyes—but too late for her to see. She no longer sees, nor hears, nor will she "here below."

Copyright 1911
R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

Get a Fresh Start!

For men who got away to a false start on a pipe or home-made cigarettes Prince Albert has a word or two for what ails their smokeappetites!

Forget you ever tried to smoke, for Prince Albert is so different, such a fine flavor, so cool and cheerful and friendly, you'll get a new idea of smoke joy! The patented process fixes that—and cuts out bite and parch!

And this little preachment is also for men who think they're on the right track. All to be said is that the sooner you lay out a nickel or a dime for a supply of Prince Albert, the sooner you'll make a discovery that'll be worth a lot to your peace of mind and tongue!

Buy Prince Albert all over the civilized world! Topped bags, 5c; tidy red tins, 10c; pound and half-pound tin humidors—and that classy crystal-glass pound humidor with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such fine shape—always!

Get the idea of smoking all you want without a comeback—that's P. A.!

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give one hundred dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free.

The Supremacy of Peruna as a Household Remedy 44 Years of Leadership

Returned to His Work.

Mr. Julien Gondeau, Erwinville, La., suffered with catarrh of the stomach. He did not know what his trouble was. He was unable to work. Could hardly eat anything. After taking Peruna a short time he is now in perfect health. He says: "I am now doing all my work. I am confident that any one suffering as I was could be cured by Peruna."

Every Change of Weather.

Mr. E. Arnold, Westerville, R. I., contracted a severe cold. The cold settled in his side and produced a condition that was thought to be pleurisy. Every change of weather would bring a return of his trouble. After taking Peruna all his ailments have vanished.

Pain in the Stomach.

Mr. Henry Kneek, Box 850, No. 1118 S. Vista Ave., Janesville, Wis., writes: "I wrote you about four weeks ago that I had a pain in my stomach. I followed your advice, and used three bottles of your Peruna, and I am all right now. I am very thankful for your advice and your medicine."

A Housewife Restored.

Mrs. R. W. Copelan, Box 22, Greensboro, Ga., suffered several years with catarrh of the stomach. She was in such poor health she could not attend to her household duties at all. Peruna was recommended by neighbors. She was induced to begin the use of Peruna. She says: "After taking five bottles of Peruna I am happy to say that I am entirely cured. My indigestion is entirely gone."

Once a Chronic Invalid.

Mrs. E. Riker, 503 Grant Ave., East Cedar Falls, Iowa, was once a chronic invalid. Four different doctors had been consulted without avail. She had taken five different medicines but had been recommended, without improvement. Peruna was tried and the good result was prompt and lasting.

Expresses Her Gratitude.

Mrs. Samuel Ruth, 535 Union Ave., Lebanon, Pa., is able to say positively that she has been cured by Peruna. She can scarcely find words to express her gratitude for her recovery. For many years she had been a semi-invalid from chronic catarrh.

Three substantial men, heads of families, made efficient once more by Peruna. Three housewives restored to their families. These are only samples of what Peruna is doing every day, everywhere. Surely, this is a splendid work. Anything that conserves family life and makes the home more desirable and comfortable, nourishes the heart root of civilization. Peruna is a great civilizer.

TEACHERS MUST

WAIT FOR SALARY

Will Only Get Part of Their Pay During March.

Frankfort, Ky., March 10.—Because the law prevents the transfer of fines and forfeitures, dog tax and other revenues, amounting to several hundred thousand dollars, to the State school fund until the end of the fiscal year, June 30, State Superintendent V. O. Gilbert stated yesterday that he will be able to make only a partial distribution of the March payment for teachers.

The treasury will disburse for this purpose about $190,000, this month. The total amount of the March distribution is $565,000 and the balance will be paid in June.

This is the first year of the seven months' term. The first six distributions were made promptly and there is sufficient in the treasury to meet the March distribution; but under the law it cannot be transferred to the credit of the school fund before the end of the year, when there probably will be a small surplus to apply on the next school year.

The estimated school revenues for the year were $4,147,222.89. The total amount credited to the school fund up to March 1 was $3,680,342.48, of which $3,423,544.37 had been distributed to the cities and counties, leaving a balance at that date of $236,698.11.

ANCIENT LODGE ROOM.

Of the Masons of Hopkinsville Was In Grant's Residence.

Few people are now living in Hopkinsville who know that the Masonic Hall long years ago was in what is now a private residence. The pioneer citizen Archibald Gant, grandfather of Mr. C. F. Jarrett and Archie S. Gant, when he built the Grant homestead on Main Street, now owned and occupied by George Kolb, had an upstairs room made twenty feet square, in which the lodge of that day held its meetings. Mr. Gant was a great Mason and a man of wealth and the meeting place was furnished by him without expense to the lodge. The Grand Lodge will meet here this year and renewed interest attaches to the lodge room of 75 years ago, which is still in existence.

WOULD MAKE PLOT ORIGINAL

Improve Moving Picture Plays by Making Waitress the Heroine and Cook the Villainess.

"The principal thing I don't like about these moving-picture shows," said the fat plumber, "is the similarity of plot. They all seem to begin the same and all have the same old ending."

"Well," the thin carpenter returned, "I suppose it is pretty hard to think up something original."

"I don't see why."

"Perhaps you could do the trick yourself."

"I think I could."

"Well, let's hear you tackle it."

"I'd have a waitress for the heroine."

"Nothing particularly novel in that."

"And a cook for the villainess."

"Why a cook?"

"That is where the plot comes in. You see, the cook gets jealous of the waitress and puts fish bones in the hero's mashed potatoes." — Buffalo News.

HIS IDEA.

Miss Green (selling tickets for church bazaar)—Mr. Wise, did you ever go to a church sociable?

Mr. Wise—Why, I'm sociable whenever I go.

No Danger.

"I see Gadson and Dubwaite comparing watches. They'll be quarreling in a moment."

"I think not."

"But they are sure to have an argument over the merits of their respective timepieces."

"You are entirely wrong. Both have tin watches and both are blessed with a sense of humor."

She Would Be Sorry.

"My young friend," said the reformer, who was studying the night life in a great city, do you realize that it is only a step from the cabaret to the gutter?"

"I guess you mean the curb, don't you?" replied the gorgeously dressed young woman. "Believe me, I'm glad of it on a rainy night when I have to run for a taxi."

Unattached.

"Who is that seedy-looking fellow?"

"He claims to be a citizen of the world."

"It's quite likely."

"Yes?"

"I can't imagine extra inducements being offered him to settle in any particular spot."

Oh, Pickles!

Miss Elderly—I was so frustrated when Mr. Bleeker called that I'm sure he will think I acted like a goose.

Miss Young—Well, you certainly don't expect him to think a woman of your age would act like a spring chicken, do you?

Logical Deduction.

"What reason have you for thinking that man is a physician?" asked the student.

"I overheard him say that he didn't enjoy good health," answered the great detective.

Unusual Type.

"This is the sort of moving picture play I enjoy."

"A story of adventure, eh?"

"Yes. And the hero is a homely wretch. I can't help wishing him well."

Quite Impossible.

"Pa, what is an armadillo?"

"Ahem! I don't believe I know, son. There are so many new-fangled fighting machines used these days that I can't keep up with them all."

Half a Negro.

It is dawning on the negro even that the Kentucky Republicans are a strictly pie-counter crowd and a greedy one, too, that wants the pie for the white Republicans only. That tendency was so strong in the recent Republican state convention at Louisville that the colored brother was not even thought of fairly for the non-salaried place of delegate-at-large to Chicago. He has always been given one-fourth of the representation, or one full vote. In this convention when there was generosity shown to the whites and it was proposed to send eight delegates, with only half a vote each, Mr. Negro was to get but half a vote, or only half the voting power that he has had heretofore. No wonder that a preacher-delegate said in his protesting speech, "I should rather have no negro than half a negro." Phil Brown, the "half negro" delegate to the Chicago convention of the Republicans, is now credited to this district, being the publisher of a negro paper at Hopkinsville, but he is an Indiana importation, having formerly lived in Evansville.—Owensboro Messenger.

WHEN ONE BORE MEETS MATE

Man Who Has Just Been Presented With New Baby Is Introduced to Owner of New Automobile.

At a smoker some time ago reference was made to the matter of favorite topics of conversation.

One afternoon Brown and Green were communing with each other in the lobby of a hotel, when a man with his countenance shining like great gladness headed their way.

"Here comes Madison," remarked Brown to his friend. "He has just been presented with a new baby, and he will talk us to death in telling of its glories."

"That's all right," responded Green, glancing in the opposite direction. "I guess we will be able to fix the thing."

"Come again, old man," said Brown, wondering. "I don't get you."

"There's a neighbor of mine over there who has just bought a new automobile," explained Green. "We will introduce them and then take a slide." —Philadelphia Telegraph.

VALUATION.

Wayne—Dinkly tells me that he is worth $10,000.

Payne—Well, I believe he recently inherited that amount, but as a matter of fact he isn't worth ten cents.

Business "Scenery."

"How's the scenery around Jinxville?"

"Infinitely varied and changed every week," answered the suburbanite.

"You don't mean to tell me the eternal hills move from their bases and the streams depart from their ancient beds?"

"Certainly not, but I dare say Jinxville has the busiest lot of billboards of any town in the country."

Mild Criticism.

"These young men running up and down the streets in gymnasium suits while the thermometer hovers around zero are still in their right minds?" asked the Man from Mars.

"Oh, yes," answered his guide. "But I would hardly go so far as to say they are in their right clothes."

Domestic Experience.

"Do you believe life is a game of give and take?"

"Oh, yes," replied the meek looking man, "but you don't quite convey the idea."

"No?"

"I've found life a game of give to and take back."

Painful Demonstration.

"You say this motorist took you to a hospital after he ran you down?"

"Yes."

"Nothing could be kinder."

"Maybe not, but he didn't have to run me down, did he, just to show me he had a kind heart?"

Bargaining for the Feather.

"My dear, I wish you would learn to make a good cup of tea. It is not difficult to learn, and it would be a feather in your cap."

"If I learn will you buy me that willow plume?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Danger.

"Don't give your fiancée that Chesapeake Bay dog of yours."

"Why not?"

"There might be trouble. Didn't I hear you say she was a duck of a girl?"

A Test Failure.

"A good soldier always keeps his head at a critical moment."

"Well, our captain lost his head just as we were about to charge."

"What made him do that?"

"A cannon shot took it off."

RUSSIA TO DOMINATE WORLD

Scotch Scientist Sees Wonderful Future for the "Colossus of the Snows."

"The twentieth century," says Charles Sarsale, in Everyman, "will be the century of the Russian." Mr.
Sarsale is professor of modern languages in the University of Edinburgh.
He has traveled in Russia and made a special study of its languages and its peoples. He says: "Notwithstanding war and famine, plague and disease,
every year 2,000,000 of souls are added to the Russian empire. Every year thousands of square miles are opened to agriculture and industry. Moral and intellectual progress have been enormous. Fifty years ago 99 per cent of the people were still steeped in gross ignorance, 90 per cent were still living in a state of serfdom. The ukase of Alexander II accomplished with a stroke of the pen what it took western nations 1,000 years of Christianity and of revolution to achieve. Today, less than two generations after the emancipation, Russia is taking a leading part in many of the arts of peace, in many of the higher activities of man. She has given a Verestchagin to painting,
a Mendeleeff to science, a Tchaikow-
sky to music, a Solovief to philosophy;
and, above all, she has given to literature an immortal band of masters of language, who have brought us a fresh revelation of beauty and a new interpretation of life."

KAVALA BONE OF CONTENTION

Greece and Bulgaria Have Been for Many Centuries at Odds Over
This Port.

Kavala, the Greek port where, it appears, a new allied expedition is to be landed, has long figured conspicuously in Balkan disputes and for a double reason. It happens that the welter of races which makes the division of Macedonia everywhere difficult is absolutely inextricable at Ka-vala, and that the town is of much commercial importance as the center of the district in which the very best
"Turkish" tobacco is grown. Consequently, whenever Greek and Bulgar have cleaned the slate of acrimonious questions there always is the standing grievance of Kavala to keep them asunder. It was the Greek king's refusal to approve the proposed cession of Kavala to Bulgaria that caused the first resignation of the Venizelos ministry and dashed the hopes of the allies for a new Balkan league. Kavala is famous for a landing of quite a different nature from that now imminent.
When it was called Neapolis St. Paul landed there on his way to Philippi.
Now a mass of ruins among the tobacco fields.

How Germans Aid French.

One of the newest French bombthrowers is as simple as the brass guns that small boys delight to play with. It consists of a German shrapnel shell case mounted on a wooden stand, with a spike in front to anchor it firmly to the ground. The case of the shrapnel remains intact after it has been fired, as its object is to act like a small cannon; its end opens and the shrapnel with which it is filled is driven out by a charge of powder at the bottom of the case.
These shell cases are carefully picked up by the French to be used against the enemy. They are cut down, and a touchhole is bored in them. The cost of the finished bomb-thrower is but little over one dollar, and its weight is negligible, while a great number of them may be turned out without the slightest difficulty. To use them a charge of powder is poured into the shell case, and a bomb, well loaded with explosives, is placed upon
it. The charge is fired by the touch-hole, and the bomb is thrown into the air. It turns clumsily over and over like a large sausage, but it finds its target with remarkable accuracy.

College Women War Workers.

There are nearly 10,000 highly educated women in England who have registered for war work under the Federation of University Women.
Among the new positions open to educated women that have been supplied by the federation are the post of draftsman in an aeroplane factory, due to a knowledge of the higher mathematics; of expert accountant in an insurance office, because of cleverness at figures and supervisoryships in munition factories given to trained special workers. A good part of the women registering have offered their spare time only, and it is hard to find jobs for those wanting to work portions of days or alternate days. The secretary of the federation explains
also that employers whose male workers have enlisted have a tendency to undercut the old wage, and these women do not wish to shave the wages of the men.

Human Nature.

Ernest Bevin, one of the leaders in the London dock workers' strike, was a delegate to the American Federation of Labor convention at San Francisco.
Bevin tells a story of the unemployment troubles at Liverpool the year before the war. The unemployed workers were organized and told to go into the restaurants and order meals.
Of course they were penniless.

The restaurant keepers accepted the deluge in a sportsmanlike manner and refused to prosecute the workless men.
There was one exception—a socialist restaurant man refused to tolerate this infraction of his rights. He alone had the uninvited guests arrested. A socialist stands sponsor for the facts.

Old English Lotteries.

On October 18, 1826, the last "state lottery" was drawn in England. From the time of Queen Elizabeth lotteries had been common in this country, and
at the close of the eighteenth century
they had become established by successive acts of parliament and were considered by chancellors of the exchequer as perfectly legitimate means of increasing the revenue. Indeed, at the time they were abolished lotteries were contributing to the state a sum amounting to £300,000 per annum.
But it was felt that the government should no longer participate in an undertaking which had such a demoralizing effect on the people, for this legalized gambling impoverished many and diverted attention from the less exciting pursuit of making an honest living.—London Chronicle.

MONTENEGRIN CITY OF WORTH

Ipek Would Be Place of Importance
But for Its Unfortunate Geographical Situation.

Ipek, the first Montenegrin city to fall before the invaders, is the most important city acquired by the Black mountain people for their part in the war of the Balkan league against the Ottoman empire in 1912, says a primer on war geography given out by the National Geographic society. Situated anywhere else but in the world's most troubled peninsula, Ipek would have made name and riches as a mecca for vacationists; beautiful and varied, its air is fresh and full of mountain-tang, and the rich Mediterranean fruits are grown in its gardens.

For the sportsman Ipek could have furnished hunting, fishing and mountain-climbing. For the nerve-worn patient it could have given a bracing climate and picturesque solitude. All of these things would have made it a tempting spot to the pleasure-seeking vacationist. As an unfortunate center of unrest, however,
where Albanian, Montenegrin, Turk
and Serbian kept the pot of trouble boiling year after year under an Ottoman administration that stirred the embers under the pot when these showed signs of smoldering, Ipek has remained unknown by the world outside for the beauties of its place.

Ipek lies upon the present borders of Montenegro, in the east toward Serbian Prithina. The Mokra Planja rise high behind it to the west, and this range forms the immediate barrier to the invaders from Ipek. On neighboring heights is situated a famous monastery, in which the Serbian patriarchs formerly housed, the Ipek monastery, founded by Archbishop Arsenius in the thirteenth century. Many of the olden chiefs of the Serbian church are buried here, and here, also, is preserved the marble throne, upon which the patri-archs were crowned. The city lies 73 miles east-northeast of Albanian Scu-tari, which latter city has now become the seat of Serbian government. It has a population of 15,000, which has been better housed and circumstanced than most of the populations in the Balkan uplands.

TEE SERVES DOUBLE PURPOSE

Ingenious Inventor Has Come to the Front With an Idea That Is Really Remarkable.

Among the hundreds of patents issued every week occasionally one stands out above all others as being entertainingly original and ingenious.
Such a patent is one issued recently for a golf tee. It is intended that the tee shall be shattered to tiny fragments when the ball is struck, and to act as a fertilizer after having been broken.

The tee is manufactured in a conical shape with a cupped top, into which the ball fits. It is made of green gelatin, so that, contrary to the condition which exists in the paper and rubber tees, the golfer can keep his eye on the ball without the usual distraction. When the club strikes the ball the gelatin tee is simultaneously struck and shattered to a veritable powder. These small, green fragments scatter on the grass and are dissolved at the earliest rain.

As gelatin is an excellent fertilizer,
the shattered tee serves a very useful

Girls Train for Social Service.

Girls wishing to enter social work in Switzerland are given a special ten months' preparation which includes theoretical and practical training in the care of children, a study of education, nursing, the poor law, hygiene, and duties of citizenship. Practical work is done in various social institutions. In Basel the experiment is now being tried of a voluntary year's service in social work on the part of girls to correspond with men's military service.

England is now making arrangements to follow Switzerland's example. Lectures and classes will deal with conditions of labor and education, also lessons in cookery, household management, account keeping,
and office work. There will be a special study of the poor law, labor organization, municipal health work, children's courts, and kindred institutions. The object, it is said, is to prepare for social reconstruction after the war.

Surgeons Use Carbonic Acid.

Military surgeons with the German army are taking advantage of the painstilling and disinfecting properties of carbonic acid in the treatment of wounds by utilizing an effervescent powder which is now being prepared.
This is composed of ten parts sodium
bicarbonate, nine parts tartaric acid,
and nineteen parts sugar. The ingredients are thoroughly mixed and then crushed to about the fineness of granulated sugar. The substance is applied freely to the surface of a wound, the moisture of which causes
it to effervesce and liberate carbonic acid.—Popular Mechanics.

Soldiers Granted Two Days to Marry.

Furloughs from the front are fixed by the generalissimo at six complete days, but the heads of corps may give two days extra to soldiers who have been the object of a citation entitling them to wear the cross of war and to those who can produce a certificate from a mayor stating that they are about to take advantage of their furlough to get married.—From the European Edition New York Herald.

WAR! What Is It All About?

HAS the whole world gone stark mad over a very foolish and trivial question? Are swords rattling, cannon rumbling, mailed armour glistering just because Russia wanted to show her love for the little brother—Serbia? Tear aside the curtain of Europe's politics and see the grim and sinister game of chess that is being played. See upon what a slim, yet desperate, excuse the sacred lives of millions are being sacrificed. Read the history of the past one hundred years, as written by some of the greatest authorities the world has ever known, and learn the naked, shameful truth.
Just to get you started as a Review of Reviews subscriber, we make you

VISIT OF EVERY STORK UNDER OFFICIAL VISION

Dr. Zueblin Would Have Govern- ment Physician Welcome All New Comers.

Milwaukee, March 13.—"The day is coming when we shall want to use the scientific knowledge we are acquiring, so that every child coming into the world will have at birth the presence of a government physician to see that it is guaranteed life," declared Dr. Charles Zueblin, of Boston, in a lecture at the library under the auspices of the Milwaukee Maternity Hospital.

"The mother may have as many private physicians and as many other people as are within the command of her pocketbook, but the government will guarantee a decent entrance into the world. That is a perfectly legitimate requisite on the basis of the scientific knowledge we have. Does that seem Utopian?"

"We already impose penalties for failure to report a death. Surely it is more of a crime not to get children into the world properly. Once in the world the child is the offspring of the nation as well as of the mother and father. As we inspect the children coming from Europe we must inspect those coming from nowhere."

REX TOMORROW

Scene From "THE EXPLORER."

Mr. Lou Tellegen, former leading man for Sarah Bernhardt, the celebrated dramatic star who is to appear at the Rex tomorrow in the Jesse L. Lasky production of William Somerset Maugham's famous book "The Explorer," has the distinction of being the first motion picture actor.

Mr. Tellegen's first appearance before a motion picture camera was made when the art was still in its infancy and restricted to the taking of moving trains or fire engines and landscape scenes. A cinematograph operator happened to appear in a little town near Paris, where Mr. Tellegen was spending a vacation, to take some street scenes. Mr. Tellegen suggested to him that a little scene be carried on in the street to break the dull monotony of the buildings. This was done, and was the first time a scene was ever enacted before a motion picture camera. Later Mr. Tellegen induced the famous Sarah Bernhardt to give a performance, "Queen Elizabeth," before the motion picture camera, and later directed her in a number of other plays.

Tobacco.

Works of genius are not expected from college student publications, but here's a characterization of tobacco that seems good enough to win immortality. It's from "Froth," a paper published by the undergraduates of Pennsylvania state college.

Tobacco is a dirty weed;
I like it.
It satisfies no normal need;
I like it.
It makes you thin, it makes you lean,
It takes the hair right off your head,
It's the worst darn stuff I've ever seen;
I like it.
Such logic is unanswerable. A truly wise critic would handle alcohol in about the same way.—Owensboro Messenger.

COMPENSATION BILL UP TO GOVERNOR

Kentucky Senate Accepts the House Amendments on Knight Bill—Reapportionate Row.

Frankfort, Ky., March 10.—After concurring in amendments made by the house of representatives, the senate repassed the Knight workmen's compensation bill this afternoon by a unanimous vote. The amendments were concurred in by a vote of 18 to 17.

The amendments to the bill by the house put back into the bill features the senate threw out on its first passage through that body, and the law as it now stands is in every feature that endorsed by the Kentucky federation of labor.

The senate also passed the house bill providing for an annual appropriation of $5,000 a year for two years for the illiteracy commission.

The feature of the day's sessions in the house came tonight, a storm breaking out when Representative Tartar's bill to re-apportion the Tenth and Eleventh districts was placed upon its passage.

The measure takes Bell, Harlan and Knox counties out of the Eleventh district and put them into the Tenth district. Jackson and Owsley counties, now in the Tenth district are, are transferred to the Eleventh district. Knox county is the home of Congressman Caleb Powers and the bill, was denounced upon the floor as an attempt to legislate him out of congress. The house adjourned at 11:30 o'clock without action.

The senate passed a bill to prohibit fraudulent advertising 17 to 2. The bill had previously passed the house.

Ready For The Governor.

The Kentucky Senate concurred in the House amendments to the Helm Bill placing express, telephone, telegraph and steamboat companies under the jurisdiction of the State Railroad Commission. A resolution asking the Governor to limit a special session of the Legislature, if one be called, to thirty days, was adopted.

LAST CHANCE

To Become An Owl at Reduced Rates.

The Owls have put on a ten days' reduced rate for initiation, beginning tonight and closing Friday night, March 24th. This is the last chance for anyone to become a member of the order this year without paying the regular initiation fee. The reduced rate is $2, and no doubt a large class will be initiated during the ten days named. The order is now in fine condition and is regarded as one of the very best of the fraternal orders existing in Hopkinsville. The members carry blank applications in their pockets and will be glad to fill them out for those who desire to become members.

The meeting tonight will be one of importance and a full attendance is desired.
